Marie Walker, MD, was invited to present at the Multidisciplinary Mayo Spine Conference this past January, according to a Rockford Spine Center news release (pdf).

Dr. Walker presented evidence and research on degenerative lumbar spondylolisthesis. She was the only physician outside of Mayo Clinic asked to present.

Dr. Walker is a board-certified physiatrist. She has been at Rockford Spine Center since 2005. Dr. Walker earned her medical degree from the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Wis., and did her residency in physical medicine and rehabilitation at Mayo Medical Center in Rochester, Minn.
