Rockford Spine Center Named Among the Top in U.S.
Becker's Spine Review Releases Top 102 Spine Surgery Practices to Know

Rockford, IL (July 9, 2013) - Rockford Spine Center is pleased to announce it has been included among the Top 102 Spine Surgeon Practices to Know in 2013 by Becker's Spine Review. The list is released annually.

Physicians included on this list were chosen based on their professional accomplishments, leadership in orthopedic and spine organizations and research in the field. Many of the spine surgeons included have made significant contributions to the advancement of spine surgery through research and technology development as well as by training spine surgeons of the future. Becker's Spine Review is an online and print publication dedicated to providing the most updated information on business and legal issues in orthopedic, spine and pain management fields.

The listing featured Rockford Spine Center as follows:

Rockford (Ill.) Spine Center. Rockford Spine Center was founded in 2003 by three partners, all of whom are fellowship trained spine surgeons. The surgeons perform minimally invasive spine procedures and provide ancillary services, including digital X-ray, MRI, electromyography, nerve conduction and physical therapy. Last year, the surgeons were named among the top spine surgeons in the country by Newsweek. They also treat patients with scoliosis, spinal tumors and deformity, and perform cervical disc replacement.
